Negro, Who Cuts Off Airbrake, Captured After Hard Chase.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.) Petersburg, Va., January 17.—Edward Murphy, alias Ed Smith, colored, was arrested near Wilson Depot, Dinwiddie county, this evening on the charge of attempting to wreck a train on the Norfolk and Western Railroad.

Murphy boarded a freight train at Wilson, and cut the airbrake of the fourth car. The freight consisted of thirty-five loaded cars, and as it is down grade from Wilson east the train's impetus was greatly increased, and the engineer was unable to stop his train, which ran by the depot, where it was stopped by the fireman, who had been alerted by the whistle. Murphy, stopping at the beginning of the grade in the eastern end of Petersburg. Fortunately, the main track connection with the city was given of the runaway freight train.

Murphy was captured after a chase, and then in the house of a negro where he had taken refuge. He was very insolent, and said that if he had a weapon he would have made his captors pay. He is a negro who has served a term of two years in the penitentiary, having been sent there for burglary. He was brought to Petersburg and lodged in the jail to await trial by the authorities of Dinwiddie county.

Follow-Up Campaign of Lymene's Movement in Greensboro Churches.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.) Greensboro, N. C., January 17.—The follow-up campaign of Lymene's Missionary Movement in Greensboro churches gave fine results Sunday. In eleven of the twenty-two white Protestant churches, the sum of $19,000, or $15,000 pledged for foreign missions for 1910 was raised; and by the time all the churches have completed the canvass of members, it is thought that instead of $15,000 the united Protestant churches of Greensboro will raise $25,000, or $20,000 paid out for foreign missions in 1909.

Seven hundred mission pledges were made yesterday at the church services, and the number will be sought increased to 2,000 by the canvass. Among the pledges yesterday individual pledges of $500 annually were made by four business men, each agreeing to support one new missionary each in foreign lands.

Under the provisions of a bill which passed the upper branch of Congress yesterday an additional judge for the Fourth Circuit is authorized. The Fourth Circuit comprises Maryland, Virginia, West Virginia, North Carolina and South Carolina. There are only two circuit judges at present—Judge Goff, of West Virginia, and Judge Pritchard, of North Carolina.

The bill was reported favorably by the Judiciary Committee, and it is believed here that it will be passed by the lower branch of Congress and approved. Then it will be necessary for the President to appoint the additional judge.

For a long time court officers and lawyers have realized the necessity of increasing the judicial staff, and in late years nearly every lawyer of standing in the circuit has been mentioned. They will be mentioned again, and the bill has been passed by the Senate. In making his remarks the President will not be confined to any particular State in the circuit; he will be free to pick as it may suit his fancy.

The bill for the appointment of an additional judge was introduced some time ago by Senator Martin, who went before the Judiciary Committee yesterday morning, asking for a favorable report, and got it. Later it was sent to the House, where it is expected to pass with delay. According to a Washington dispatch last night, the new judge will come from Maryland or Virginia, with chances largely in favor of the latter.

Hotchkiss and Gordon offered to build the line for $3,443, if the wires were run up the right of way of the Chesapeake and Ohio Railway, instead of through the city streets, a much shorter distance.

Engineer Traford thought the line should be all on city property, for convenience in making repairs, and in event of a possible accident on the railroad, and the alternate proposal was rejected.
